Employees of the Oil and Gas Conservation Division,

I am pleased to report that Tim Baker has accepted the position of Division Director effective today, July 1, 2014. As we all know, no one is better qualified for this position. His prior service to the division and the Commission includes experience in leadership roles in every department of the division. He is also widely recognized, both inside and outside the agency, as someone who possesses a unique combination of technical expertise, common sense, and dedication to the best interests of the State of Oklahoma. Please join me in congratulating Tim on his new position.

Also, please join me in expressing our utmost gratitude to Ron Dunkin for his service as Interim Director. He has provided thoughtful and steady leadership to the division through this transition period.

Thank you, Tim and Ron, for all you do for the division and the Commission.

Sincerely,
Lori
